COMMITTEE ON NILES WILD FLOWER SHOW TO MAKE INITIAL PLANS

Display Is Assured For Niles Again This Spring

The Niles Wild Flower Show, for a number of years one of the outstanding floral exhibits of southern Alameda county was assured for this spring, when Chamber president F. V. Jones named those who will serve on the committee this year. The names were read at the civic group meet Monday.

Jones stated that preliminary arrangements for the display should get under way at once, in view of the fact that mild weather throughout the winter has fostered a rapid growth of many species of the flowers.

Started at first as a more or less local institution, the Niles Wild Flower show has gradually assumed the proportions of an almost county wide affair. Visitors to the display come from many distant points.

Two of the original committeemen, Bill Jones and Al Johnson, who had served every year since the institution of the fete, will be missing this time. Both have moved to Sunnyvale. The committee will be headed by J. E. Townsend. Members of the committee are: Townsend, W. B. Kirk, A. J. Petsche, E. D. Bristow, Marston Dassel, Jack Williamson, O. W. Ebright, E. E. Dias, A. Alves, George Rose and Frank Nunes.

The meeting of the show group will be held during the latter part of this week, at which time preliminary plans will be held for gathering the flowers, and the date selected for the display.

PARENTS WILL HEAR EXPLANATION OF "CUB PACK"

Homer J. Bemiss, Council executive of the Boy Scouts will be the principal speaker tomorrow night at a gathering of parents at the Niles grammar school. He will explain the "Cub" program, an idea recently worked out to organize the very young boys.

The "Cub Pack," an experimental group of young boys was formed in Niles. The boys, not yet of scout age, take up such phases of scout work as their years permit. When they reach twelve years they automatically are graduated to the scout troop. The "Cubs" must be nine years of age.

Before any boy can be registered in the Pack, it is mandatory that the parents attend the meeting tomorrow night and learn something of the cub program. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8:00 p. m.

Miss Lurena Chenery was a visitor in Berkeley Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Sam Perry and Mrs. Bart. Thane, of San Francisco, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thane and Mrs. J. R. Whipple.

NILES PUBLISHER IS ON VACATION IN SOUTH

Leaving business activities to the editorial and mechanical staffs for a week, Norman H. Parks, publisher of the Township Register, left Saturday morning on a week's trip to the southern part of the state.

Parks made his first stop at Santa Barbara, where he visited a short time with George Lynn, managing editor of the Santa Barbara Daily News. After a day or so in Los Angeles, the Niles editor drove to Imperial Valley, where he is spending the balance of his vacation. He plans to make a short trip into Arizona.

Previous to his leaving Saturday. Parks had been working steadily without respite from managerial duties for more than two years. He stated that he would return sometime next week.

TAX INFORMATION ISSUED BY AUDITOR

This is to inform taxpayers that they may take advantage of the emergency relief tax redemption measure and thus save their property from sale, or deed to the state, under the following provisions:

Straight redemption plan is: Penalties eliminated on all delinquent taxes prior to year 1932-33 with interest at 7 per cent only on the total basic taxes, payable from July 1, 1932 to date of redemption.

Penalties eliminated from 1932-33 delinquent taxes with 7 per cent interest payable from July 1, 1933 until redeemed.

Installment payment plan is: All delinquent taxes prior to the December 1933 installment may be paid in 10 or less installments—10 per cent or more per year of total amount of original tax plus 7 per cent interest—provided current taxes are paid each year beginning with the current taxes of 1933-34.

Either plan must be taken advantage of before April 20, 1934, after which the old law, as amended May 29, 1933, will become effective: namely, taxes, delinquent penalties, and costs together with redemption penalty at the rate of 1 per cent per month from date of sale to time of redemption.

The above outline was issued in a statement received from Horace P. Ross, auditor of Alameda county.

Mrs. H. R. Hunt, Mrs. Jack Williamson and Mrs. J. R. Whipple attended a theatre in San Jose one evening last week.

Mrs. Norman H. Parks attended Eva La Gallienne's performance in Oakland Saturday afternoon.

CLUB MEMBERS HEAR VIVID DISCUSSION OF HITLER REGIME

Eloise F. Arrowsmith Tells of Change In German Art.

Members of the Country Club were enthusiastic Tuesday over a program of an unusual and intensely interesting nature. Eloise Fessenden Arrowsmith, just back from several years of study under eminent European dramatists and actors, addressed the group on conditions in Germany under the Hitler regime, and particularly those phases that effect the theatre.

Miss Arrowsmith spoke of the apparent German devotion to music, literature and art. She stated that each town, even the small ones, had an art center or a community theatre.

After telling of conditions previous to Hitler's rise to power, the speaker outlined the changes wrought by him by his appeal to the mass psychology. She deplored the loss of old Jewish culture in Germany. Of interest was the speaker's statement that one must be German, back three generations, to obtain any sort of employment in the fatherland under the present political masters.

Following her short address, Miss Arrowsmith gave two classical readings: "Lines of Queen Elizabeth from Schiller's "Mary Stuart," and "Marguerite's Prayer," from Goethe's "Faust."

The last number or the afternoon was a waltz interpretation by Miss Arrowsmith and Frederick Drew, of the famous Drew family, eminent actors.

Miss Arrowsmith was introduced by her cousin, Mrs. J. C. Shinn, who also presented to the group Mrs. Schnobel, 90, grand aunt of Miss Arrowsmith. Mrs. Schnobel recently came back to this country after 40 year's residence in Germany.

Music for the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. J. E. Townsend, through the courtesy of Mrs. Lawrence Bunting. The program consisted of four excellent baritone solos by Lawrence Chyrl, of San Francisco. He was accompaniel by Mrs. Sidgely Thompson.

A short business meeting, at which committee reports were given, and several names brought up for membership, was held before the program.

Centerville Man Hangs Self In Barn

M. G. Dias, 60, Found Dead By Son Tuesday Night.

Said to have been despondent for more than a year, Manuel G. Dias, born and raised in Centerville, was discovered hanging from a rafter in his barn at 243 South Main street, Tuesday evening. The discovery was made by his son, Alfred George Dias, at 7:20 p. m.

Dias was last seen alive at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Joe Morrone, of Centerville. Investigators stated that Dias had been dead for more than an hour when found.

Dias, born and raised in Centerville, was the husband of the late Louise George Dias. He had been a rancher in Centerville since his early youth. Business conditions are thought to have been the cause of his despondency. Several months ago Dias is said to have attempted to purchase poison at an Irvington drug store, intimating the dose was for rats. The druggist became suspicious when Dias asked what amount of the poison would be fatal to a man.

He is survived by two children, Alfred George Dias and Mrs. Virginia George Orlando, both of Centerville.

Funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the Chapel of the Palms, at Centerville, where the inquest will be held later. Interment will be in the Holy Ghost cemetery.

CIVIC GROUP HEADS RE-ELECTED MONDAY BY LARGE MAJORITY

Dr. E. C. Grau As Vice President Is Only Official Change

Proving by their ballots that they valued the leadership of the officers who have served during the past year, members of the Niles Chamber of Commerce Monday re-elected all of the last year's heads but one.

F. V. Jones, A. J. Petsche and R. Blacow were re-elected by large majorities to the offices of president, secretary and treasurer respectively. Dr. E. C. Grau, elected vice president, will be the only new member of the official staff. He will replace E. E. Glassbrook.

In addition to Harvey Braun and Lester Duffy, automatically directors as past presidents of the chamber, W. B. Kirk and George Bonde were named to serve on the board.

President Jones, who had earnestly asked the civic group to allow him to retire from office, accepted his election in good spirit. He voiced his determination to benefit by his own errors as he saw them, and to lead the group with even more energy than in the past. He was given an ovation by the members.

The new officers will resume direction of the group at next Monday's meeting.

Previous to the election Secretary Petsche read a communication from Principal A. J. Rathbone, asking that he be allowed to furnish an entertainment for the group during Education week. His offer was unanimously accepted.

The matter of giving support to a resolution fostering union of all bay cities in the future was laid on the table pending more definite word as to its nature.

A petition from the Boy Scouts, asking that a portion of the Chamber's usual allotment be advanced to them was read. Action was postponed until next week.

KILLER BEING SOUGHT AFTER FATAL STABBING NEAR NILES THURSDAY

Knife Wielder Known To Police Here As Petty Thief.

Violent death stalked again through Washington township last Tuursday night when a Martinez man tngaging in a drunken brawl with a companion on Cherry Lane, south of Niles, was stabbed in the throat with a short knift. He expired on the in the Chapel of Palms ambulance.

The dead man was known as Carl Boettger, 37. He had been employed at Centerville for about a week. His alleged murderer, known as T. Randall, 26, is being sought by police.

The fatal scuffle occurred in front of the Garcia home on Cherry Lane, where the men had apparently stopped their car to settle the argument. Boettger was stabbed and left in the road by Randall who immediately fled the scene. Boettger was discovered a few minutes later by Frank Bettencourt, who was returning to his home a short distance away. Bettencourt summoned the police.

A third man, named Joseph Garcia, also of Centerville, who is alleged to have been an eye witness of the fatal stabbing is being held as a material witness. He is said to have been with Randall and Boettger.

The murderer and his victim had been roommates in Centerville since the time of their release from the county jail a short time ago. Both had served short terms on petty theft charges. Randall was sentenced to ninety days last year when he appeared before Judge J. A. Silva on charges brought by several Niles people whose cars he had rifled. He was arrested by Constable O. W. Ebright as he was taking a hose from the lawn of Mrs. C. A. Franklin, on Second street.

Following the fight, Randall is said to have returned to his Centerville room, gathered his effects together and attempted to sell them. He disappeared immediately after. Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch stated this week that the search for the accused man will be extended.

HEAVY NORTH WIND IMPERILS FRUIT BLOSSOMS

Apricot growers throughout Washington township were alarmed Wednesday morning, when the unusually excellent spring weathers gave way to a ripping north wind that imperiled the none too numerous apricot blossoms.

Driving a hail of white petals before it in many sections, the wind did considerable damage. Growers had previously noticed that the bloom this spring was much lighter than in the preceding three years. A full set of the blossoms would be necessary to insure a fair crop.

With the soil rapidly drying under the north wind, vegetable growers hastened this week with their cultivation.

AMERICAN COLONY FOUND IN JUNGLE

Away From Land of Ancestors 70 Years.

Washington.—Existence of what is termed a "unique colony" of Americans in the torrid depths of British Honduras has been reported by the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

This isolated group of persons, who have been away from the homeland of their ancestors for more than seventy years, was encountered by Oliver Ricketson, Jr., of the institution's staff in the course of a survey of the racial make-up of that section of Central America.

They live in what is known as the "Toledo settlement," and are described by him as "irreconcilables from the southern states who, rather than be under the northern yoke, betook themselves into perpetual exile after the Civil war." The present colony presumably is composed of the second and third generation of self-exiled Southerners.

It is well known that after the Civil war colonies of former Confederate soldiers were established in Brazil, where they prospered and their descendants have taken a prominent part in the life of the country, but the Honduran group apparently dropped out of history, Ricketson says.

Another "Lost White Race."

He found what may be another "lost white race" on the hundreds of keys stretching along the Honduran coast line. He describes members of this group as follows:

"They are characterized by a spare build, aquiline nose, rather high frequency of blue eyes, considering the almost universality of dark eyes throughout this area, and by a mahogany-colored complexion, more suggestive of long exposure than of racial swarthiness.

"I was given to understand that they never leave the keys except to visit Belize, and that their only occupations are turtling and fishing, plus a mild interest in coconut cultivation. My informant expressed an opinion that they were remnants of those early settlers and buccaneers who referred to themselves as 'the Baymen.'

"I can do no more than suggest that this type may be such a remnant. Like the Caribs, they are expert sailors. Living in a relatively salubrious and mosquito-free environment, it might be expected that their general health would be found higher than that of the mainland dwellers."

Finds "Amphibian People."

On the southern coast of British Honduras Ricketson reported the finding of a strange "amphibian people" known as the Wykas, who had a distinct language of their own and were almost equally at home on land or in the water.

These, he says, "are Carib Indians so overlaid with negro blood that to casual observers they would unhesitatingly be classed as negroes, but their double racial origin may be seen by one or more of the following characteristics: A stocky build and a short heel, with correspondingly well developed calf muscles, or by straight, shiny-black hair."

Coast Engineer Builds 45-Foot Yacht Himself

Hayward, Calif.—Unable to purchase a yacht to fulfill his life-long ambition to sail the seven seas, Frederick W. Delanoy, Hayward mechanical engineer, turned his handicraft to use to achieve his desire.

After several years of spare-time labor, Delanoy has built a trim 56-foot cabin cruiser, which he claims will outride any storm on any ocean. He plans to launch the "Gerrie II" soon for a trial trip.

Powered with a 145 horse power marine engine and equipped with many labor-saving devices, Delanoy plans to make several trial cruises before heading out across the Pacific with a party of friends on a two years' world cruise.

Monster Alligator Has Inhabitants in Terror

Clarksdale, Miss.—Blue Dick, a dreaded alligator, has renewed his terrorism around Eagle's Nest brake.

Strange tales have been woven about this creature. He is said to have migrated from Swan lake into the brake about fifty years ago. Some say he is 14, and some, 18 feet long.

He has been known to capsize rowboats, and recently he held captive two inhabitants, Lee Green and Burdine Mosley, while they were at the brake gigging frogs.

Pushes Wood as Fuel

Over the Bridge Table

By SUZANNE SMITH

©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service

"CERTAINLY you have heard that Tom and Betty Linton have decided to forget their matrimonial disputes and carry on together," said Fanny Barton as she was dealing the cards at the Wednesday afternoon bridge club, meeting at her home. "I'm so glad. It would have been really tragic for them to separate with that lovely boy of theirs."

"Yes, I heard that they were reconciled. It happened at Atlantic City last month, didn't it? When Betty sent for Tom when the boy was ill?"

"Let's keep the conversation for over the refreshments, girls," suggested Hilda Bowns.

Fanny Barton followed Hilda's glance toward a boy sitting reading.

"Why not run out and play, Jack," suggested his Aunt Fanny. "I'll call you when it's time for refreshments."

"I'd rather read this book, Aunt Fanny. And besides, mother or father might call and I want to be on hand to talk to them."

Later on Hilda Bowns said: "And now for the inside facts about the Lintons, while the refreshments are being served. I'd like to hear all about the case."

"Well," began Fanny Barton, "it certainly looked as though their married life was due for the divorce courts. At first they were ideally happy but then Tom made a lot of money and they stepped out. Later came the crash, and then the trouble started. Betty admits she was as much to blame as her husband. She had taken young Tom to Atlantic City and they had planned divorce action in the fall, and then Tom—the son—took a sudden turn for the worse down there—you know he's always been a delicate boy. Betty was panicky and telephoned Tom. The boy was delirious and tossed around in bed, and called for his father incessantly. Tom went down immediately and they didn't leave the boy's bedside for several days until he began to recuperate. He begged them to take him home and for them to stay there with him. That was the first time that either Tom or Betty realized that Tom Junior knew about their planned separation. It impressed both of them a great deal and they decided to try getting on together for young Tom's sake."

Cora came in with the refreshments and as she passed the boy, absorbed in his reading, she whispered: "Fruit punch, sandwiches and cakes for you, Jack. Shall I bring them in here, or will you eat them on the porch?"

The boy closed his book and smiled up at his aunt's maid: "No, Cora, I think I'll take them in the kitchen. It will save you a lot of trouble."

When Jack had left the women for his refreshments in the kitchen, his aunt spoke. "I do hope Jack was too interested in his reading to hear what I said about the Lintons. You probably know that his parents—my brother Joe and Belle—are having the same trouble. He realizes that things are upset at home and is very sensitive about it."

At dinner that evening, Jack announced to his aunt and uncle that he would like to go home.

"Uncle Harry can drop me at the corner of our street and I will surprise mother and father. I'm not feeling so well and I think I'd better go home."

It was just a little after seven the next morning when the telephone rang and the voice that rearched Fanny was excited.

"It's Belle, Fanny. I—I just couldn't wait to tell you. Jack was sick last night but he's much better this morning, thank goodness. Joe sat up all night holding him and he's giving him his breakfast now. It was so strange and sudden. We called the doctor and he couldn't find anything wrong with Jack, but he tossed from one side of the bed to the other and acted delirious. He kept calling for both of us and he didn't get to sleep until some time after midnight. Neither Joe nor I slept a wink all night but he slept soundly until six this morning. But Fanny, what do you suppose he said, just before he dozed off last night?

"He said: 'If you love me and want to keep me, if you don't want me to be sick, then you both must stay right here with me—all the time.' Oh, Fanny, to think—"

"And now what?" prompted her sister-in-law amiably.

"Joe and I have talked everything over. We talked and talked last night while we sat in Jack's bedroom watching him. And decided for Jack's sake we'd make a strong effort to forget all our differences of opinion. I'm going to have the doctor come again this morning to see Jack."

"I don't think a doctor is necessary, Belle, dear. Don't spoil your new happiness—and Jack's—by calling in an outsider. Just pack up and go on your trip as soon as you can. And remember that Jack needs both of you, more than ever. I'm so glad to hear you've patched up all your troubles."

Feed for Work Horses

Efficient work horses can be developed by feeding less grain than many farmers are inclined to use. At the Missouri experiment station it was found that one lot of colts which had a total of 4,238 pounds of grain and 5,723 pounds of hay each, up to the time they were three years old, made just as good work horses as those which had 7,638 pounds of grain and 4,664 pounds of hay. They did not grow quite as fast, and were slower in developing, but there was less difficulty in keeping the colts sound in feet and legs and as work horses they were just as satisfactory as the ones that had more grain.—Successful Farming.

Texas Town Nearer 15 State Capitals Than Own

Austin, Texas.—Proposed redistricting of Texas has brought forth some queer facts about the state. Texarkana is nearer the state capitals of 15 other states than it is to Austin, capital of Texas. The 15 are: Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Florida.

Residents of El Paso, Texas, are closer to Los Angeles than they are to Beaumont or Port Arthur, Texas. Brownsville, Texas, is farther from Dalhart, Texas, than Dalhart is from North Dakota. Dalhart is nearer the capital of six other states than it is to its own state capital.

Area compilations show the state, with 262,398 square miles, to be larger than pre-war Germany, larger than France and more than twice as large as England, Scotland and Ireland combined.

Hoboing Pullet Takes Long Trip on Bumper

Hagerstown, Md.—When Alvey C. Zittle left in his auto from near his home near Boonsboro he did not know that he had another passenger.

He did not discover that one of his half-grown pullets had perched upon the bumper until he reached Shepherdstown, 22 miles away.

How the chicken clung to the bumper and came through unscratched is a mystery Zittle is trying to solve.

CRIME IN AMERICA TAKES HUGE TOLL

Annual Cost Placed at Thirteen Billion.

Washington.—Crime is costing the United States $13,000,000,000 annually, says the National Council of 76.

Every year, on an average, 12,000 persons are murdered, 3,000 kidnaped, 100,000 assaulted, and 50,000 robbed. The annual murder rate has increased 350 per cent since 1890.

Each year sees 40,000 homes and other places robbed, and more than $100,000,000 is lost through incendiary fires.

These figures have been assembled by the council, formed at Washington July 4 by a group of private citizens seeking to educate and arouse the public to the menace of organized crime.

The work is directed by Col. James A. Moss, retired, a widely known military author who in the nine years since his retirement has made a special study of the crime situation.

The council is forming branches in each of the states and in each congressional district. These subsidiary councils will be formed among outstanding citizens who will work voluntarily to crystalize public opinion in their communities toward the enforcement of the law and the elimination of organized criminals.

"It is distinctly a problem of education," says Moss. "No law can be effective without public opinion behind it. The dry amendment proved that.

"But the people are ready. Since we opened our campaign we are receiving about 250 letters daily from people who want to help.

"The average man and woman simply doesn't know the existing situation. The national council will give them the facts. Then we will ask them to use the ballot, which is much more effective a weapon than bullets. We must drive corrupt officeholders out of office."

Providence, Utah.—A sow belonging to Alvin Stauffer gave birth to 18 pigs, but could accommodate only 12, so the remainder were fed from bottles equipped with rubber nipples.

Three-Wheeled Motor Car to Be Tested Soon

Bridgeport, Conn.—A new type motor car, radically different from any on the market, has been designed here by W. Sterling Burgess, yacht builder, and soon will be put on the road for tests.

Burgess, a former lieutenant commander in the navy, has designed the car much after the models of the class C dirigibles, which he developed. Wind resistance is cut 80 per cent, compared with that of the present models, he says, and the chassis is mounted on three wheels instead of the conventional four.

The cars are bullet shaped and come to a point in the rear. They are built to seat four people. The single wheel, at the rear, is used for steering. The front wheels drive the car, which is powered with an eight-cylinder motor.

Unemployed Get Jobs in Municipal Lemon Grove

Upland, Calif.—Unemployed men have been put to work developing a municipally owned lemon grove here.

City officials saw little possibility of securing revenue from a ten-acre tract covered with rocks until the idea of the lemon grove presented itself.

Once the tract was cleared of rocks men were given additional work leveling the ground and setting it out to trees.

Now the men are busy removing the rocks of Cucamonga Wash for use in the flood control project, and the city hopes to reduce taxes through possible revenues derived from the grove.

Cow Mistaken for Bull Gets Revenge on Youth

London.—An outraged cow which was mistaken for a bull soothed its injured dignity in its pasture at Wellingborough, Northamptonshire. Farmers there have retaliated against young couples who forget to close the gates after them, by putting frisky bulls into the fields. So when a young man saw an animal trotting toward him and his sweetheart, he thought he had found a chance to display his courage. He whipped off his coat and threw it over the horns of the beast. But the "savage bull" was merely an amiable cow with friendly feeling. So it dropped his coat in the pond.

He'll Wed Any Girl for $300 in Cash!

Camden, N. J.—Gerald Haines, a young widower of Philadelphia, offered to marry "any respectable woman" who has $300 and will take care of his three-year-old baby. His advertisement, inserted in a Camden newspaper, follows:

"Young man, twenty-five, widower, with baby, three, will marry any respectable woman for $300. Needs the money for his parents, who are destitute. Would like honest woman who would be mother to my baby. Will be good honest husband to woman who makes offer."

Steam Shovel Reveals Natural Refrigerator

Superior, Mont.—A steam shovel operated in placer mining activities along Oregon creek, near here, recently made an important geologic discovery when it bit into a subterranean ice bed of unknown depth.

The ice deposit, apparently created by natural refrigeration, was found beneath five feet of slide rock. Of clear texture, the ice was followed for a length of 85 feet and to a depth of 20 feet. It extended further downward, but how far the placer miners did not discover.

Capacity of Panama Canal

The Panama canal can accommodate any ship afloat, being 110 feet wide in the lock chambers. The largest vessel in operation is the S. S. Majestic, 100 feet 1 inch wide. The S. S. Leviathan is the widest American vessel and has a breadth of 100 feet 3 inches.

SCIENTISTS PLUNGE INTO "PIT OF HELL"

Face Many Perils in Survey of Desolate Spot.

Durango, Colo.—Away from the last frontier of law in the United States, into the "Pit of Hell," Ansell Hall of the National Park service is leading a party of forty or more archeologists and zoologists.

This so-called "black spot" of the Southwest is located principally north of the Colorado river in southeastern Utah and comprises an area of 600 to 700 square miles. The purpose of the expedition, as announced, is to make a survey of the uncharted district and to explore any ruins discovered.

The party is said to be threatened almost hourly, day and night, by renegade Indians, who resent the white man's invasion.

Another contingent of the exploration party, made up of engineers and geologists, with headquarters at Betatakin Ruins, Piute reservation, Ariz., is exploring that portion of the "black spot." It has an airplane equipped with an aerial camera. The Piutes and their neighbors, the Navajos, are friendly.

Peril Dogs Party.

Starting from Mexican Hat, permanent base, part of Hall's party, using folding boats, shot the rapids of the San Juan river and went to Lee's Ferry on the Colorado. The remainder of the party is using a pack train of mules and horses.

The expedition promises rich reward in geological and scientific data, according to reports received here. Already ruins have been discovered, it is stated, that were old when Christ was born, and bones of the Pliocene era and skulls of men have been found that may add thousands of birthdays to the oldest ancient man.

The invaders are in a land that is solemn and frightful. The heat is terrific. A merciless sun beats down upon them. Water is scarce. Cactus. Sparse, rare grass. Deep sun-baked earth makes the going slow. Dust clouds, red-colored and smothering, powder them all, man and beast of burden, and turns them to ghastly, hideous creatures. Dancing, shimmering heat rises in palpable waves. The clear, dry heat sucks the moisture from their bodies.

History Revealed.

The early history of the United States is written in the ruins snuggling along the cliffs in the hidden canons that traverse the "Pit of Hell," so called because so far it has been impenetrable, scarcely watered, desolate and remote. Page after page of history is being revealed. There are footprints in the sandstone; there are pictographs on the cliffs and boulders; there are human and animal bones buried in clays and gravel, and pottery and stone implements and ruins of cities.

The renegade Indians, reported to be opposing the advance of the Hall exploration party, are believed to be led by progeny of members of the old Polk and Posey band of southern Utes that for many years and as late as 1920 waged a guerilla warfare and rustled cattle from stockmen of the district, in retaliation for settlement of land once held by the band, although the disputed territory was not embraced in the Ute reservation.

Hard to Distinguish Hawks

It is difficult for the novice to distinguish between the various hawks as they sail overhead. Some are slow flyers and sail along leisurely looking for rodents, frogs and other ground inhabiting creatures, while others, like the sharp-shinned sparrow and Cooper's hawks, show remarkable speed on the wing and waste little time when they are after food.

Australian Tree 290 Feet High

What is probably the largest tree in the world outside of California, which was found near Healesville in Victoria, Australia, is nearly 290 feet high, and its girth of 62 feet can only be spanned by 15 persons with outstretched arms and clasped hands.

Western Pacific Depot Is Robbed Tuesday Night

Thugs broke into the Western Pacific depot at Pleasanton last Tuesday night and took $13.62 in cash from a safe in the office, according to reports received by chief of police John Delucchi and Albert Viervais, constable. both of Pleasanton.

The officers stated that the thieves gained their entrance into the depot by breaking a glass on the door near the door knob and reaching in and turning the latch on the inside of the door. They broke open the safe and took the money.

The robbery was reported to the officers Wednesday morning when Jack Stahlnecker, agent, returned to his duties and found the door and safe broken. So far no clues leading to the robbery have been found by the officers.

Johnson's All-Stars Down Oakland Team Friday Night

Johnson's All-Stars defeated the Hazel Atlas Glass Company team by a score of twenty-nine to fifteen in a game played at the Castlemont high school Friday night.

Both teams played on even terms with the score at the end of the half 11 to 10 favoring the All-Stars. The Pleasanton boys could not get organized in this period because they were playing in a large court and had to get accustomed to it before they could make their shots work.

In the second half of the game the Johnson's managed to run up a score against their opponents the final score being 29 to 15 favoring the All-Stars.

The boys displayed some good floor work. Silva's work was good under the basket for set up shots and George's passing was exceptionally good. Azevedo also scored a number of points on set up shots.

The lineup was George, Azevedo, forwards; Silva, center; King, Ed Vervais, and Soito, guards.

Monday night March 5 the All Stars will play the Elmhurst Athletic Club at seven forty-five.

Monday night, March 12, the All-Stars will play the Alpha Pi Beta Fraternity of Alameda. Both games will be played at the Amador gym.

HAYWARD FIVE ARE DOWNED BY PLEASANTON FIVE

Displaying some mighty fine floor work and scoring a number of set up shots the Johnson's All-Stars defeated the L. S. Young team of Hayward last Wednesday evening by a score of fifty to seventeen.

The Johnson boys played in good form and their team work was very effective. No long shots were attempted with the boys working the ball nicely down the court for set up shots. Silva who worked under the basket had a dead eye on the hoop and scored in almost every attempt tried. The game was played clean with but few fouls called on the All-Stars.

Hank Vervais and King played well at guard as did Silva and George, and Powers. Silva was high point man with sixteen; Powers followed with ten; and Azevedo scored eight, Ed Vervais scored six; and George, three.

The lineup was George, Silva, Azevedo, forwards; Powers, center; H. Vervais, Soito, King, and E. Vervais, guards.

Alameda DeMolay Are Defeated by Johnson's Team

In a game which was rather rough and speedy throughout the Johnson's All-Stars defeated the Alameda De Molays by a score of thirty-six to twenty-eight. The game was played at the Amador gym Monday evening of last week.

At the end of the first quarter the Alameda team was ahead of the Johnson's with a ten point lead. During the second quarter the Pleasanton boys managed to close the gap with the visitors having a two point lead on them.

During the final quarter of the game the Johnson's managed to gain a lead which they held until the end of the game. Good floor work was displayed by the Pleasanton boys. The boys worked the ball down the gym into their territory for set up shots some of which were missed.

The game was rather dirty with the boys tripping occasionally with the result that a number of the players had three personal fouls.

The Alameda boys displayed good teamwork and were very quick in passing the ball.

Muggs George was high point man for the evening scoring fourteen; Powers and Silva tied for second with six; H. Vervais, four; Azevedo, King, and Ed Vervais, two. Every player in the team scored on that evening.

Clarence King and Henry Vervais played outstanding at guard which counted greatly toward holding the opponents from scoring. Due to the close guarding the Alameda boys were forced to make long shots, which did not work so well and gave the Pleasanton boys possession of the ball.

Three men who claim they have been working for the Hetch Hetchy off and on and giving names as Walter Schneider, Pete Dailey and P. Jensen, are being held on a vagrancy charge after demanding a jury trial at the Pleasanton Justice Court of Judge Charles A. Gale on March 6.

The three men were arrested by Constable Albert E. Vervais and John Deluochi Wednesday evening when they were acting in a suspicious manner near the Amador Valley high school.

When the officers arrested the men they found twenty gallons of oil in their car and had their oil in their car which was parked on the Santa Rita road near the Amador Valley high school. SIMPLE LOGIC:

Electric Range + Electric Water Heater + new low electric rate = MONEY SAVED

1¢ per kilowatt hour! A new low electric rate for cooking and water heating on the lower block rate.

THE steadily increasing popularity of electric cooking proves one point beyond a doubt. If you try one of the modern, super-speedy electric ranges, the odds are very much against your ever going back to any other type of kitchen cooking device.

So great is the contrast between the automatic way in which the electric range carries out your cooking orders from the standing-by watching and hoping method of non-automatic stoves, your decision will be immediate. Cooking is better, easier, simpler with the modern electric range.

As a companion convenience to match the modern performance of the electric range you will want one of the highly efficient, automatic storage type electric water heaters. The combined price of these two kitchen companions you will find to be exceptionally low this year. Now isn't this the first thing to be done in the spring program of improving and modernizing your home?

Best of all by using the electric range and the electric water heater with a demand control switch you will enjoy the new low electric rate of one cent per kilowatt hour. Get the facts on this new deal for the kitchen. We know you will be enthusiastic.

It takes only about 3% of the family budget to give the services of an electric percolator, toaster, radio, refrigerator, lights, electric clock, washing machine, iron, vacuum cleaner and other lesser appliances. Electricity renders many services at little cost.

Amador High To Have Exhibits During Public Schools Week

Attractive exhibits of work done by the Applied Art and General science departments of the Amador Valley high school are being arranged to be held during the week commencing April 23 in connection with the public week's program which is being conducted by all the schools in the state, according to word received from E. O. McCormick, principal.

The fundamental idea in any school work is to establish in the mind of the youth the requirements of individual responsibility in promoting and continuing Democratic government. The exhibit of this characteristic within the school is not always to be clearly portrayed.

It shows in the sportsmanship of athletes, in the readiness of students to be prompt in their attention to daily tasks, in the attitude of responsibility to carry out the daily tasks. It is exhibited in the manners and courtesies of daily life. This exhibit is judged in many ways, but the basis for judgment must begin with an understanding of the characteristics of youth.

This public school week offers the community an incentive to promote the educational interests movement to protect the schools of the children by joining the by knowing the conditions which confront them.
